

Blake Carroll was born in Selmer, Tennessee, on March 14, 1980. He was saved at the age of ten and accepted God's call to preach at nineteen. The call of his heart is to lead men, women, boys, and girls to trust Jesus Christ as their Savior and Lord.

Carroll received an Associate of Science degree from Jackson State Community College and a Bachelor of Science degree from Liberty University. He has earned two seminary degrees, including a Master of Ministry and a Doctor of Theology and is also the recipient of four honorary doctorate degrees.

He has served as pastor of two Southern Baptist churches and led both to record growth in Sunday school participation and evangelism. His messages have been broadcast by radio throughout middle and western Tennessee. As a conservative voice of the Christian faith, he has been interviewed by CNN's American Morning, Nancy Grace Live, and other media outlets.

In 2005, Carroll answered God's call to enter vocational evangelism. He began preaching faithfully in the midwestern and southeastern United States at Bible conferences, youth conferences, and revival meetings. He has been blessed with opportunities to cross denominational boundaries and has also preached in many multiethnic churches. Dr. Carroll's preaching style is characterized as biblical, passionate, and simple, but he is best known for his bold, uncompromising proclamation of God's Word.

Dr. Carroll is the author of How to Meet & Defeat the Enemy, Dealing with How You're Feeling, Out of the Shaker, and Still Dealing with How You're Feeling. He resides in Cordova, Tennessee, with his wife, Ebony. They have four children and one grandson.
