Like many of us he has been chastened by the experiences of life and has found a deeper and more meaningful relationship with both his Lord and His call. BLAKE CARROLL, pastor, evangelist, and author, has a passion for leading men, women, and children to trust Jesus Christ as their Savior and Lord. He has served as pastor of two Southern Baptist churches and led both to record growth in Sunday school participation and evangelism.

In 2005, Carroll answered God's call to enter vocational evangelism and began preaching throughout the midwestern and southeastern United States at Bible conferences, youth conferences, evangelistic crusades, and revival meetings. He has been blessed with opportunities to cross denominational boundaries and has also preached in many multiethnic churches. While Dr. Carroll's preaching style is characterized as biblical, passionate, and simple, he is best known for his bold, uncompromising proclamation of God's Word.

Carroll is the author of How to Meet & Defeat the Enemy, Dealing with How You're Feeling, Out of the Shaker, and Still Dealing with How You're Feeling. His messages have been broadcast by radio throughout middle and western Tennessee. As a conservative voice of the Christian faith, he has been interviewed by CNN's American Morning, Nancy Grace Live, and other media outlets.

Born in Selmer, Tennessee, on March 14, 1980, Carroll was saved at the age of ten and accepted God's call to preach at nineteen. He received an Associate of Science degree from Jackson State Community College and a Bachelor of Science degree from Liberty University. He has earned two seminary degrees, including a Master of Ministry and a Doctor of Theology. He is also the recipient of four honorary doctorate degrees.

Dr. Carroll resides in Cordova, Tennessee, with his wife, Ebony. They have four children.

~ STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLES ~

DECISIONS: I will preach, pray, and visit, depending on the Lord to provide the wisdom and ability to serve with excellence. I will trust in Him alone to provide whatever increase He pleases. I assure you there will be no pressurized invitations. They will be given clearly, concisely, and graciously.

MONEY: I will exert no pressure concerning the offering. I believe that the earnest pastor who invites a vocational evangelist will recognize the unique needs of this calling and will lead the church to give an admirable offering. If the Holy Spirit has prompted you to invite me, He will lead you to know what I need to continue in this ministry. I will neither request the names of your people for a mailing list nor contact them asking for financial assistance after the meeting concludes.

PASTOR: My heart's desire is to assist you as a pastor. The five years I spent in the pastorate help me understand the burdens, as well as the blessings, of this calling. I will respect and applaud your ministry before your church.

PREACHING: I will preach those messages that the Holy Spirit impresses upon my heart. As an evangelist, I have learned that the Lord often gives me the same message for multiple churches. When He does this, I believe these are messages for "the" church, not just "a" church. I always prayerfully seek God for the message He wants preached in each location. I will always bring messages in love, never intimidation.

VISITATION: I am coming as your guest and ask God to always give me the heart of a servant. I want to help you in any way I can.
